the kind. The story is altegether improbable. If anything of the kind had eccurred it would have created the buggest sensation there for years, and the theorems minister would have known all about it. Moreover, Wis. Herron was not a misstory or a preacher.
The doctor addid that the Coreans looked upon Christianity with great disfavor and had made it a cut find terme. They had done this years ago with they thought the Jesuits were endavoring to recure control of the government. The law was a dead

The New York Certs I Cut Rate on Whent
Between the Interior and the Scalanard Washington July 23.—The interstate commerce commission to day decided that the practice of the trunk lines to accept a similar sum for hauling gruin for export between the interior and the "eaboard than the regular rate between the same points was in violation of the law. The decision is founded on the complaint of the New York Produce Exchange against the New York Cent at road. This decision says that the only practicable mode yet devised for mak ing through export rites is to add the established mining rates from the interior to the seaboard to the current ocean rates.

SOUTHERN TESTIMONY:

There is no subject that has received more attention from the leading mag zines of the country than the negro question, that is, the present condition and industrial and political prospects of the blacks of the South. A curious thing in this discussion is that the Southern man who is on the country. Southern man, who is on the ground and knows the negro by years of observation and contact, writes far more hopefully of the future than the Northern tourist. An Oregonian of Southern birth, but a republican in politics, on his return from a recent a dranken and licentious vagrant who would not work, and whose place as a laborer had been taken by Scandinavians in the mining districts about Birmingham. Anniston and other flourishing towns. This I of native Southern men, residents of Louisi-and, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, is the result of superficial observation and preju-diced testimony, for the vast weight of testimony is that the negro is a most valuable that he is increasing more rapidly in wealth, intelligence and morality that inty people have ever done in less than twenty-live years of freedom. A Southern merchant, a democrat, who has lived all his life in the South, who knew the negro as a slave and has employed him as a freedman. fold a friend during his recent visit to Por that the South had at its command to-day. He was content with small waves; he was cile, cheerful, and in the sugar lands and who could work and live in that climate.
The Chinese coole, who seems to endure all chanates, whether hot or cold, wet or dry might do the negro's work at the South, but under our present legislation the Chi-ness were excluded, and therefore the negro and continue to be the great laboring cla the South. Of course a race that has at the South. Of course a race that had been in slavery for more than 250 years could not be expected in less than twenty-five years of freedom to efface the moral and physical truits of servitude. The negro paysical trains of several years to come, be thievish and morally judifferent to the sanctity of the marriage tie, and the obligaons of chaste and temperate living, but his tennegroment in this direction had been in mense compared with his conduct in the days of slavery. Negro vagrants, drunkards and rufflags were found in every Southern mmunity but in no greater proportion community, but in no greater proportion than are seen among the "poor white trash" of the same sections, who are, as a rule, more indolent and intemperate, and quite as unchaste as the negro. The industrial change in many parts of the South was greatly to the advantage of the negro. While the South as a whole was growing in prosperity, there were parts of the South that were suffering from communical decay. The town of Jefferson, on the Red river, The town of Jefferson, on the Red river, once the sent of a flourishing trade, is to-day so dismantled that business blocks which tost $40,000 to $50,000 years ago, are not ing torn down and their bricks sold to the neighboring farmers to make into chimneys, is in a state of rapid decline from its forme place. The negro has been the gainer by this redistribution and multiplication of in-dustries at the South. He not only holds his men, just as there are provident and improvident Coinamen, just as there are thrifty and thriftless whites. The testimony of this Southern merchant my he taken with confidence, for he is and has been a resident of the Gulf states numerous. What he says is confirmed be the testimony of Rev. Dr. Haygood. native Georgian, the president for many years of a Southern college, a man of high character, ability, scholarship and piety. Dr. Hayrood testifies that the schools of the South stand for but sighty-one days of an rual attendance against 119 days elsewhere in the Union, and that the apparatus is inadequate. Most of the schools have but few elementary books. A small number have wall maps, cheap globes or charts of some sort. The salaries paid teachers are from $20 to $30 a month. But in spite of the inferior schools Illiteracy is steadily decreas ing both among blacks and whites. The enth census reported that in twelve states, which collectively may be called the South, there were 332,733 white voters and 880,905 negro voters who could not write. In 1870 white illiteracy amounted to 19.4 per cent.; in 1880 to 18.6; in 1870 colored illiteracy was 88.9 per cent., and in 1880 it had been reducid to 78.9. Concerning the present educational attainments of the colored people,

Comparing the case of the white people with the ense of the negroes in these respects, we find; For 1888, total white school population, 3,183,019, an increase from 1881 in six versely of 19 per cent.; total white curoliment, 1888, 1,957,588, an increase

Of the negro's progress Dr. Haygood says: "No other people were ever helped so much in twenty-five years, and no other liliterate people ever learned so fast." Congressman Amos Cammings, a brilliant member of the editorial staff of the New York Sun, in his account of a recent trip to the iron districts of Alabama and Tennessee, does not confirm the statement that the rales of onero labor the statement that the place of negro labor the tenement into the place of negro most is being taken by white, and Ex-Mayor Hewitt, pl New York, a democratic from manufacturer, who has recently visited the Bouth, in a recent address before the British Iron Trade Association said:

The co I and ore were only five miles apart, and about five shiftings would deliver at the furand about five shillings would deliver at the furpiece the material for a tou of from. Of course this was a combination which as far as he knew, ddl not exist anywhere else in the world, and he supposed he might assume that the only drawback at all would be in the higher rate of wages; but there was the vast body of negro labor quito available, and he doubted whether the per diem wage was so much as in England.

1. in clear that Mayor Hawitz consider-

It is clear that Mayor Hewitt considers the negro the present and future labor sup-ply in the South. The prejudice against the negro in the South is not physical but the negro in the South is not physical but political, while at the North the prejudice is physical rather than political. The Southern man laughs at the physical recoil of the Northern man from a negro, because in the old days of alaxery the colored man was often a body servant to the master and his family, and the colored woman was often the nurse that suckled the children, and not need to make the south, because of the political dread and social contempt that is always the dread and social contempt that is always the heritage of a race so recently released from hervitude. The disposition of Southern adges and juries is to deal very leniently with white criminals, and the governor of South Carolina has become notorious of South Carolina has become votorious of recent years for reckless liberality in granting applications for the pardon of winter projets of whose guilt, there is no prete of doubt but if the convict is a hegro, or is a white associate of negro criminals, the law shows him no mercy; the executive seldom grants a pardon.

A MERCHANT MARINE.

Buring the year 1868, the United States. government pail to steamship, companies $460,321. Of that sum $303,500 went to foreign companies and only $75,760 to ships sailing under the flag of the United States. sating under the mag of the Office States. The English government during the same period expended in subsidies nearly ten times the amount granted American vessels, and the outleyt proved a wise national

A merchant marine is needed to place the A merchant marine the nation upon a firm foundation. Our commerce is extensive, our exports on the increase, our goods and products reach the most distant corners of the globe, but for lack of native ships, and native seamen, and dearth of American capital that is invested in the shipping industry, other nations are permitted to usur; certain legitimate profits, that should be kept within the country. The government has in a way subsidized our manufacturing interests, until it ey have become lusty with strength and power, and though shipping and its offspring foreign commerce is just as important, it has as yet received no national recognition, and has sunk to such slight proportions as practically to amount to nothing.

Commerce is not, however, the only interest that is served by granting assistance to American navigation companies. The na-tional government is taking steps towards forming the nucleus of a navy, designed to possess sufficient strength to insure for our possess sufficient strength to insure for our interests everywhere that respect necessary to protect both public and private rights. For this many we will need seamen, and a training school for seamen will be provided by our merchant marine. American companies will sail American ships, and American ships will be built and sailed by Americans

But even this is not all. Modern experience in the art of ship building demonstrates that the best ships can be built of steel. Those constructed of this material are safer, stronger and can be made capable of attaining a higher rate of speed than those made of any other material. The total steel tonnage of 1838 in England was 837,764 tons. which was a large increase over the previouyear. Consequently, the manufacture of steel in England increased from 981,104 tons in 1867 to 1,292,742 tons in 1888; while in in 1887 to 1,292,742 tons in 1888; while in America the production of steel fell off from 322,069 tons in 1887 to 314,343 tons in 1888. When the capitalist here is encouraged to invest in steamship lines through the instru nentality of governmental aid, the producmentality of governmental and, the produc-tion of steel will be largely increased and this means labor at feir wages for great numbers. There are numerous other industries in-timately connected with building and sai-ing ships that would be stimulated to great ang saily that a data and a data meds, and the expenditure of vast sums on internal imprevenients, the government should not hesitate to hold out the only inducement that capital will accept, and that is the subsidy that shall place the American is the known that saint place the American on the same level as the English shipper, so that the former may fairly compete with the latter. Millions thus expended will yield a return of tens of millions, and the result will she w itself without delay. To sum up the entire question, in subsidizing American steamship companies the government makes a sure and safe investment, one that will be followed by the increased pros-perity of the nation.

The Sloux reservation in Dakota contains 21,000,000 acres of land or covers an area almost as large as the state of Indiana. If the commission succeeds in its negotiations with the Indians it will have achieved a very important result toward the development of this part of the Northwest. It will not only open up for se tlement a large area of fertile, land, now unproductive, but it will break the rower of the Sioux Indians, and in some degree relieve the nation from the support and suppression of a dangerous and hostile population. It is reported that some sentimental fools are urging the lindian not to sell his birthright for a mess of pottage, but it is clearly recognized that this cluss of would-be philanthropists do not possess any substantial sympathy for the Indian. It is no friendship to the red min to keep him chained in barbarism and superstition, barred out from civilization and its benefits. Such a course dooms the savage to speedy extinction, while an acquiescence in the plans of the government for his ultimate betterment will make him in time a useful and perhaps independent citizen. Again, it may be observed the Indian had just as well now graceful f to the inevitable, for this and all other descryations will eventually be opened with or without consent.

cational stainments of the colored people, Dr. Haygood gives the following summary:

There are in the south, in 1883, 16,000 common schools, conjucted by colored teachers: In these schools about 1,000,000 colored children receive demantary instruction from three to four nonthal per amount at public expense.

Not less than 2,000,000 of the colored people can at least read.

In higher education the best ones succeed as well as other people with the same sort of proliminary training.

Total colored school population, 1888, 2,057,980, an increasy from 1823 of 14 per cent.; total cylored that former y. We rather think that full prisons show that tution, that we are worse, because the prisons contain more than formery. We rather think that full prisons show that fewer evil-doors escape than that more guilt exists. No one but the alarmists sees great danger in our present conditions.

Doctor Birdsall, a specialist on brain disense; gives it as his opinion that illogical poets are insane, and gives Millon and Wall Whitnean as examples. We are unaware of the methods pursued by the scientist to ascertain who are logical and who are illegical poets, but if he was an editor and was called upon to examine sickly effusions on "Epring," lamentable obituary epics on "Little Mary Steeping in Jesus," and upon "The Birth of Horace Dobittle Simpkins," he would have ample argument to prove that some poets at least are insane.

Emigrants to the number of 173,000 have entered the ports of the United States during the first six months of the current year. This shows a decrease of 66,000 arrivals be-low the number for the corresponding period of 1888. A decrease of imigration was formerly regarded as an indication of an unsatisfactory condition of business. We rather regard it now as a national blessing

PRACTICAL FOINTS IN POTATO PLANTING Joseph a practical writer on agricultural top ce gives readers of the larm and lucaide advice on potato culture as follows advice on pointo culture as follows

I have before one several inquiries about the best modes of punting fri h potators and I wildispose of them rather summarily by giving a review of what I consider the esspecial points idet points trist—Prepare the land so thoroughly that e whole depth of the surface soil is user. It broken up and mellow second—Be liberal with fertilizer select second—Be aberal with fertilizer selecting a high grade special potato mainire (or whitever is thought to answer the particular case best) applying part of it broadcast and part in the drills above the seed pieces. Third—Strike out furrows three feet apart running a trenching flow or winged shovel pow repeatedly in the bottom of the furrow without going into the subsoit their refit the furrows pirtly before planting, so that the seed will be four inches below the levil of the ground in your particular locality and use fresh, plump seed

If the Place a good ared chunk with as few eves as you wish every six to eighteen inches apart in the row according to variety (whether dwarf or tail) size of pieces and local condition then cover two inches deep putting the fertilizer on top

bixth—When the young plants began to piech through the two-inch covering gradually fill up the trenches by giving the held a thorough harrowing with the smoothing harrow Hepoat the harrowing one or twice, until the plants are well up

beventh—Afterwards keep the surface of the ground between the rows thoroughly pulverized by the free use of the horse-hocone with very narrow blades

Eighti—Preventinjury from pointo beetles by keeping the vines well dusted with a mix ture of Paris green and plaster—one pound of the former to a barrel of the latter—well sinken before taken ture of Paris green and plaster—one pound of the former to a barrel of the latter—well shaken before taken. Ninth—At last cultivation just before the vines occupy the entire grounds use blades that will turow just enough soil upon the rows to choke out what weeds may have started among the plants.

VALUE OF CLOVER AS A PERTILIZER Some idea of the value of clover as a fer bottle hard the value of the ex-thirms crop may be obtained from the ex-periments of Professor Lawes a distin-guished agricultural chemist in England perments of Professor Lawes a distinguished agricultural chemist in England According to a careful analysis made by him the manure from a fon of straw is worth about $2.50 — taking the price of chemical fer tilizers as a basis. The minure from a ton of cover hay is worth a little more than $9— or more than three times as mitch.

The value of any yird minure depends main yilly on the amount of potash nitrogen and phosphoric acid theoriains the carbon record or woods until to be fully perhaps on saidy land that has long been cuit vated without stable minure. According to Professor Liwes a ton of or dinary barny aid manure contains $10 inds nitrogen 11 pounds potash and i pounds phosphoric acid while a ton of manure made from clover hay contains about 20 pounds of nitrogen 10 pounds of patish and $6\frac{1}{2}$ pounds of phosphoric acid. Astrogen seing the high est priced constituent it will be seen at once how much more valuable is manure made from clover than from straw or other hay her hay and the manure made from clover than from straw or other hay her hay make the high and $6\frac{1}{2}$ ments.

SKIM MILE POR COWS

Our readers know we have from time to time hammered away for years, in favor of feeding sweet skim milk to the cows that gave it when a better disposition could not gave it when a better disposition could not be made of it in growing grade or thorough bred calves. E. R. Towle, agricultural editor of the St. Albans. Messenger (Vt.) gives the experience of a large and prosperous dailyman of that state who never tiles the buil of his mick from the barm but has a good market for it right where it is judiced this method largely saves the buildings and the care of them to maintain the while desire were of the term and excense the fra the care of them to maintain the swins de par upent of the inrim, and escapes the fra grance of the pig sty in the vicinity and if it nets as much or more money why have the added investment and cire of the swine business for all it is were he than the swine business for all it is were he turn the swine to the dury from we would be vetter to either wholly religated to the past or its quality as small and remote from the circust he independent of the past or its quality.

FOTATOLE IN WET VEATEER

Ann and most of Mer were dry mine t places but June has thus fir heer a wet month Same farmers who planted pointoes lote have been surprised to find their rotting in the ground while potatoes planted early are growing as vigorously as need be. Of are growing as vigorously its need he of course the ground is warm, and the rotting is not from cold. If it were then the earlier planted potatoes would rot more readily than those planted now. The reason of this phenomenon seems to be twofold. In the first place, potatoes planted late have probably been sprouted once or twice, and the vitality of the seedbud has thus been weakened. After this the potato pinced in the wet soil cannot start foliage quickly enough to save the set from rotting. Seed complanted late does not rot, however wet the weather. The seed theel is dry, and this explains the difference. Probably if the seed potatoes were dried into chips, wet weather following their planting would be an advintage. We have always found that early planted potato seed succeeded better from being well dried. This year the later plant ed needs to be treated in the same way.

INSECTICIDES AND THEIR APPLICATION

Paris Green—The chief objection to it is that it is so heavy that it settles quickly to the bottom of the vessel, very much more quickly than London purple. It is also quickly than London purple. It is also more expensive.

London purple is a by product in the man infacture of aniline dies. It contains nearly the same percentage of arsenic as Parts green (50 or 60) and is much cheaper. It is a finer powder and consequently remains in suspension longer. It may be used in the same way as a powler or in water. Heltchore is a powder made of the roots of a plant called white hellebore (featrum with it). It is a vegetable poison but much less lai gerous than the mineral arsenical poison and kills both hy contact and tring cateful it in y be applied as a dry powder or in a tier in out of to three gallons and sespecially excellent for destroying the current, worm.

First—Keep the vine limited to the post don't let it spread far enough so be in the way of the cultivator Second—Prune in the fall or very carly in the spring, for the farmer fall pruning is the safest

the salest Taird.—Aim to grow at 'east four canes or vines to each post. You cannot always get so many by the third or fourth year but aim
to get them.

Fourth.—Cut out the oldest cane close to

to get them

Fourth—Cut out the oldest cane close to the ground each season letting one new strdog cine succeed the old one lith—The three or four canes leit must bear the fruitwood, leave at pruning time three or four yours of new wood to each of three canes and cut there spury back to lwo or three bads. From these bads come the new fruitwood which will bear ituit Exth—Guard jealousy to keep the vince from getting top heavy i eep the fruitwood low down on the plant. Grapes grown near third ground are the sweetest and best flavored. It will be seen that by cutting out one of the canes each season there is no opportunity to grow old sings, which be come a puzzle to the grower who does not know what to do next with them. All the summer pruning we do is to go with them shears through the vineyard and clip the great least cluster of vines on all sides into trather compact form.

MILK AS A FOOD

"It is a mistake ' says the Loi don Hospi tal, "to look upon milk as a bevarage. It is a liquid food and though it quenches thirst at the moment, it makes it more intense after it has been some time in the stomach and its digestion has commenced. Healthy infants who receive a sufficiency of milk often cry for long periods, to the bewilder ment and distress of the mothers and nurses, simply because they are thirsty, and in many cases where indigestion is caused by weak ness or insufficiency of the gas ric juice the child would be greatly benefited by a drink of water.

The problem of sugar manufacture from sorghum or beets must depend greatly on the price sugar commands in the world s mar rice sugar commands in the world's markets. For some time past the price has been below cost of production it is and and the encouragement given in Europe by bounties paid has stimulated production. At the present time there is not over one half the sugar in the world there was a year ago and this reduction in supply joined with reduced bounty paid has had the effect to advince the piece one half it might not have been possible to grow sugar from bouts or sorghum at the prices pand a year ago, while it may pay to try it at present prices. There is in ducement now that should stimulate enter prise in that direction. The sorghum fut tories of kansas and beet sugar factories of California now have here opportunity.

IONDON PURPLE

Liom every section of the country great complaints are heard of the ray good a sect pests. The Jonato bugs it a year in every district seem more numerous than it ey have been any year suice they first made their appearance. A little labor and slight expense wil counteract the ill effects of almost every class of ansect pest. The proper and timely a coff on your peep the cheapest of all insecticides has never been hown to fail in clearing the potito vinus or fruit trees. In the bulletin of the On o Agricultural Expension Station for Much 188), Charling M. Wad gives the following. The pest's see ally kightin check by the use of London purple or laris green that the hardly pays to try any other method. Applye city do not want all the vinus are three, fourths even but kill off the inst brood and the later broods will trouble you much less.

l'armers and fruit provers who u e Paris green or London purple for protecting 10 tato crops or their apple orchards can hardly be too careful 1 umbiarity with this dan ger has induced some to disregir at the care fulness which, while the use of the poison was new, who generally observed 1t is laiways best to use these poisons in witer and a much weaker solution than its often supposed will destroy insects. The coding moth especialty is killed by a solution so weak that there is no danger of the ever remaining on the fruit until it is gathered for eating. But sheep and pigs ahou die kept out of apple orchards after they have been sprayed until a heavy ruin has fallen to wash the poison from the grass under the trees. A light rain will not do that as every one can see by the dryness of the soil under any dense foliage. Only after the leaves have been thoroughly saturated with water will they drip upon the grass or soil below. In case poisoning with Paris green or Loudon purple occurs it should be reincontent that iron rust is the best antidot. Most soils contain iron he that after the poison touches them it is him as I armers and fruit growers who u e Paris
